Please join Eagle Valley Wildland for S-212 Wildland Fire Chainsaws. This 4-day class will include, 1.5 days of class room and 2.5 days of field cutting time. The course lessons provide introduction to the function, maintenance and use of internal combustion engine powered chain saws, and their tactical wildland fire application. Field exercises support entry-level training for firefighters with little or no previous experience in operating a chain saw, providing hands-on cutting experience in surroundings similar to fireline situations.
