Proactive Discipline Approaches: Elementary, Middle and High Schools

Details:

Friday, April 19, 2013; 8:00am - 4:00pm

Registration begins at 7:30am

No cost to Colorado participants

Many Colorado schools have already been successfully using alternatives to suspension. With the passage of SB12-046 within HB12-1345 last year, schools now have the ability to use even more discretion when dealing with disciplinary issues.

Join us as we review your responsibilities under the new law, help you use your data to design strategies and share successful interventions for proactive discipline approaches.

Agenda:

- Overview of Guiding Legislation, Michelle Murphy, Esq., Colorado Association of School Boards
- Discipline, Data and Disproportionality, Eldridge Greer, Ph.D., Denver Public Schools
- Data Analysis to Drive Decisions, Erin Sullivan, M.S. Ed, and Team, Colorado Department of Education
To make this session most useful, a suggested list of data to bring will be sent prior to the workshop.
- Lunch (provided)
- Student Panel
- Intervention Strategies and Solutions
You will not only hear effective strategies that have worked for others, but you will leave with a list of suggested interventions.

It is suggested that you attend with your entire disciplinary and/or PBIS team: administrators, school mental health professionals, special education personnel and law enforcement professionals so that you can take optimal advantage of the work times built into the day.
