Jesse Hansen (DVOMB Staff) replied that they receive approximately one or two per year. Andrea Bradbury then asked what the procedure is when a CORA request is made. Jesse Hansen responded that the staff reaches out to the Department Public Information Officer (PIO) first, and noted they will then reach out to the Attorney General's office if additional assistance is needed.

Public Discussion:

None

Danielle Lewis (Attorney General's Office) thanked the DVOMB for the opportunity to present this information. She then gave her contact information.

Jesse Hansen (DVOMB Staff) noted that it is ok to have a conflict of interest as long as it is disclosed. He noted that a conflict of interest is not ok when it appears to be secretive or violating the public trust.

Stephanie Fritts (DVOMB Chair) changed the order of the agenda due to the delay of the next scheduled presenter.

REVISIONS TO SECTION 9.00 AND ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS FOR CERTIFIED ADDICTION TECHNICIANS (Discussion Item): (Attachment #4) Karen Morgenthaler (DVOMB Member) and Carolina Frane (DVOMB Staff)

Stephanie Fritts (DVOMB Staff) indicated that this agenda item will be for discussion only, with no formal voting needed.

Jesse Hansen (DVOMB Staff) introduced the revisions to Section 9.00, the new eligibility requirements for Certified Addiction Technicians (CATs), and how to recruit individuals for providers.

Karen Morgenthaler (DVOMB Staff) and Carolina Frane (DVOMB Staff) reviewed the recommended changes from the Application Review Committee and described the main reasons why these changes were initiated. She noted that these were based on the Department of Regulatory Agencies (DORA) changes and the effort to help recruit providers. Karen Morgenthaler reviewed the following revisions:

- Changed the name from “Entry Level” or “Trainee Level” to “Associate Level Candidate” throughout Section 9.00.
- CATs are a DORA listing, and can now apply to be an “Associate Level Candidate” in the Standards.
- The CATs should then move toward the Certified Addictions Specialist listing while under supervision by an approved Licensed Addictions Counselor.

Carolina Frane (DVOMB Staff) indicated that individuals can submit an associate level candidate application, and noted that when the supervisor has approved them, the CATs will be able to facilitate services without supervision or co-facilitator. She mentioned that the hope is this will encourage more CAT’s to apply for this new listing while working on their associate level requirements.

Carolina Frane (DVOMB Staff) indicated that the Judicial Rural Initiative funds are still available to help facilitate rural applicants or help those providers who offer specialized services. She indicated that a provider will have to apply for these funds directly. Carolina Frane noted that this language was removed from the Standards at the request of the Judicial Department, but indicated that these funds are still available.

Lori Griffith (DVOMB Member) noted that these requests are quite rare, and indicated that Judicial is still offering these funds based on special circumstances.

Karen Morgenthaler (DVOMB Member) mentioned that the changes in Section 9.00 will support the field for seasoned clinicians who are now able to proceed further in their career. Jesse Hansen (DVOMB Staff) mentioned there is some concern that the individuals who are receiving a listing status while still under supervision might present some risk to the clients. He noted that this will help some individuals to keep their positions or will encourage more to apply, which will help with staff shortage issues.

Board Discussion:

Nil Buckley (DVOMB Member) asked if the CATs name will be listed on the Website. Carolina Frane (DVOMB Staff) indicated they will be listed on the Website as an Associate Level Candidate until they are fully trained and apply for the Associate Level listing. Nil Buckley indicated that this change will certainly help with CAT qualification confusion and staff shortages.

Jeannette Barich (DVOMB Member) asked for clarification of the Associate Level Candidate listing versus the Associate Level (entry level.) She asked if a provider at the Associate Level can still run an agency. Carolina Frane (DVOMB Staff) responded yes they can as long as they are under supervision. She indicated that there are specific listings for treatment providers only and associate level evaluators only. Carolina Frane noted that in order to have the Full-Operating Level listing, a provider must have both sets of skills (both treatment and evaluation.) She noted that the Associate Level listing still requires a provider to be under supervision. Jeannette Barich indicated that there are many qualified associate level providers who currently run a clinical office, who are not able to co-facilitate. Carolina Frane responded that full-operating level providers must have 500 clinical hours and must have both the treatment and evaluation skills. She noted that a variance can be submitted for those qualified associate level providers in order to be able to co-facilitate treatment. Carolina Frane mentioned that the qualified individuals should follow Section 4.00 of the Standards in meeting the requirements of Full-Operating Level, and she indicated that the process has been simplified.

Jesse Hansen (DVOMB Staff) noted that providers should reach out to Carolina Frane for further clarification. Carolina Frane noted there will be a lunch and learn training for these changes to Section 9.00 in the near future.

Taylor Redding (ODVSOM Staff) noted that all training opportunities are uploaded to the DV Provider Training hub.

Relatives (OMMIR), (Presentation): (No Attachment) – Arron Julian, OMMIR Director

Jesse Hansen introduced Arron Julian, the Director of the newly formed Office of Liaison for Missing or Murdered Indigenous Relatives (OMMIR.)

Arron Julian (OMMIR Director) introduced himself and his past experience in this field. He then presented the following information:

- Federal Crimes and Tribal Crimes.
- Tribal officers can only prosecute and enforce based on tribal laws.
- Some tribes do not have Tribal Court or tribal jails.
- If tribal officers continue training and are certified through the Federal Office of Tribal Affairs, they will then have the ability to enforce some Federal crimes.
- Tribal officers can also receive training and certification at the state level, which offers them more ability to enforce some crimes
- The crime type will determine if it is a Tribal issue, Federal issue, or State issue.
- Federal and FBI investigation involvement is limited.
- Many Crimes go unpunished and are not investigated.
- Sexual crimes happen for all ages and genders.
- Behavioral health interventions are not always available for Native Americans on the reservations.
- In the Federal system, a Grand Jury indictment takes about 2 years, and then it takes another 2 years before the trial begins.
- Many victims give up their case due to the slow judicial process.
- He gave a case example – It took 2 years for the Federal investigators to complete their interviews and for the conviction in Tribal court. The maximum sentence in Tribal Court is 364 days in jail. Due to this, the perpetrator then contacted the victim (who indicated that the process did not help her,) so she gave up and went back to her abuser.
- Arron Julian indicated that due to these inconsistencies, that he is doing the work he does to better the lives of the Native American populations.
- He noted that many of the sexual assault cases fall through the cracks.

- He helped developed a Sexual Assault unit within a hospital in Arizona, that reduces the number of times a victim must tell their story.
- The OMMIR is the 2nd office of its' kind in the U.S, and noted that Nebraska has the 3rd office. He recommended that every Western State create this type of office. He is working with the State of Minnesota in developing these offices,
- He indicated that April 14th is Ute day at the Colorado Capitol.

Board Discussion:

Andrea Bradbury (DVOMB Member) thanked Arron Julian for this very important information. She noted the FBI has seven open victim specialist positions specific to Native Americans regarding tribal law and working with tribal victims.

Stephanie Fritts (DVOMB Chair) indicated that as a prosecutor, she asked for advice regarding victim advocacy related to the cultural needs of Native Americans. Arron Julian (OMMIR Director) indicated to reach out to him for help in connecting those advocates. Stephanie Fritts asked if there is any education for prosecutors regarding cultural advocacy. Arron Julian responded that New Mexico has their attorneys and prosecutors take training on this.

Taylor Redding (ODVSOM Staff) indicated that Arron Julian will be speaking at the ODVSOM Conference in July, and noted that she put his contact information in the chat.

Jesse Hansen (DVOMB Member) noted that the Sunset Reauthorization Bill indicates that the DVOMB must conduct Standards Compliance reviews on 10% of the providers every 2 years. He reviewed the major changes to the administrative policies due to this new mandate which is effective July 1, 2023 as follows:

- 10-15% Standards Compliance Reviews are required, effective 7/1/2023
- The revisions ensure that a provider may undergo a compliance review sometime during their career
- The revisions create a structure that helps and supports providers
- The 1st major change is found in Administrative Policy VI. – Approaches to Promoting and Supporting Compliance with the Standards
  - A. Training & Technical Assistance
  - B. Standards Compliance Review (SCR)
    - Random – requires a review of work product
    - For Cause – has 3 levels (Level 1 – Implementation Verification, Level 2 – Work Product Review, Level 3 – Site Visit & File Review)
  - C. Formal Complaints will now be initiated or filed, and investigated by the Application Review Committee (ARC), and then sent to DORA for a concurrent investigation.

Board/Public Discussion:

Erin Gazelka (DVOMB Member) noted that her agency is working to get a treatment group together for these populations, and she indicated the complexity of the numerous populations makes it very difficult to address all needs.

Philippe Marquis (Audience Member) expressed the need to do no harm to the client, and noted he encounters many challenges with the various populations and their needs. He suggested the need to begin addressing the client harm rather than victim harm in treatment in order to address the client needs. Jess McBrayer (Presenter) responded that research shows that the clients blame their own victimization, and noted that many times they do not accept accountability. Jess McBrayer suggested having a group that is male identifying.

Rachael Collie (ODVSOM Researcher) indicated that more research is coming out that helps identify some of the group dynamics, which should help in treatment effectiveness. She also noted to keep in mind the therapeutic alliance between provider and client.

Carolina Frane (DVOMB Staff) reiterated that to do no harm is paramount as a clinician, and noted the need to look out for the clients to ensure there is safety in the group settings. Carolina Frane also indicated the need to make sure that providers are making the best recommendations for client safety.

Philippe Marquis (Audience Member) responded that within the power/privilege wheel, recognize that the client needs to live and navigate life.

Carolina Frane (DVOMB Staff) indicated that a peer consultation group is a very good space to work on these issues.

Jesse Hansen (SOMB Staff) thanked Jess McBrayer for this great discussion and for the information presented.
