I: Elements of a School Threat Assessment Process

Information about the behavior and communications of the student of concern should be gathered and analyzed by the authorities involved in a threat assessment inquiry or investigation. This information will permit reasonable judgments about whether the student of concern is moving along a path toward attack on an identifiable target.

The following four elements are essential to the development and operation of an effective school safety threat assessment process:

- 1. ESTABLISH AUTHORITY AND LEADERSHIP TO CONDUCT AN INQUIRY.
 - 2. DEVELOP A MULTIDISCIPLINARY THREAT ASSESSMENT TEAM THAT IS BASED IN THE SCHOOL OR DISTRICT AND PROVIDE ONGOING TRAINING.
 - 3. ESTABLISH INTEGRATED AND INTERAGENCY SYSTEMS RELATIONSHIPS AND PARTNERSHIPS TO RESPOND TO PUBLIC SAFETY CONCERNS.
 - 4. PROVIDE AWARENESS TRAINING FOR STAFF, STUDENTS, PARENTS, AND COMMUNITY PARTNERS IN WARNING SIGNS OF VIOLENCE AND REPORTING PROCEDURES.

Explanation of Elements of a School Threat Assessment Process

1. ESTABLISH AUTHORITY AND LEADERSHIP TO CONDUCT AN INQUIRY

- a. Formal policy and procedures are recommended to authorize school officials to conduct a threat assessment inquiry when any behavior of a student deviates from the norm and may pose a threat.
 - (1) The question often arises as to whether or not schools can conduct a threat assessment without parental permission. SB12-036 clearly states, “Nothing in this subsection limits the ability of a school district to administer a suicide assessment or threat assessment.”
C.R.S. 22-1-123.
 - (2) However, at the appropriate point in the process, as decided by the threat assessment team, parents will be consulted.
- b. Building and district leadership should support, create, and designate the threat assessment team(s). The building/district team also acts as an information “vortex” for student concerns and record-keeping.
- c. Information sharing must support the school threat assessment process.
 - (1) Information must be gathered from various sources during the inquiry.
 - (2) Consider options for storing the information in an accessible format and keep information in a central location.
- d. Legal issues regarding information sharing require advance consideration. Consult with legal counsel and create appropriate memorandums of understanding. Training must be provided to involved school staff and agency personnel.
 - (1) FERPA allows for various exceptions to privacy protection that have relevance to threat assessment inquiries: Section 99.36 (December, 2008) makes clear that an educational agency or institution may disclose personally identifiable information from an educational record to appropriate parties, including parents, whose knowledge of the information is necessary to protect the health or safety of a student or other individual if there is a significant and articulable threat to the health or safety of a student or other individual, considering the totality of the circumstances.

In January of 2018, the Colorado Attorney General provided a Formal Opinion on FERPA. “The Opinion addresses misconceptions about FERPA’s scope to assure teachers, administrators, and other school staff that they may proactively respond to safety concerns, including threats of school violence, without violating students’ and families’ privacy rights. The Opinion also explains what information Colorado schools may obtain from juvenile courts and law enforcement agencies to assist in evaluating school safety risks.” The Opinion can be found at:
<https://www.cde.state.co.us/dataprivacyandsecurity/ag-ferpaandschoolsafety>
 - (2) Colorado statutes (SB 00-133) provide schools, and other agencies working with juveniles, encouragement for open communication among appropriate agencies, including criminal justice agencies, assessment centers for children, school districts, and schools in order to assist disruptive children and to maintain safe schools. C.R.S. 22-32-109.1(3)
 - (3) Colorado law (HB 16-1063) provides an exception to mental health professionals disclosing confidential communications when school safety is at risk. Disclosure may be made “when a client, regardless of age, makes an articulable and significant threat against a school or the occupants of a school; or exhibits behaviors that, in the reasonable judgment of the licensee, registrant, or certificate holder, create an articulable and significant threat to the health or safety of students, teachers, administrators, or other school personnel. A licensee, registrant, or certificate holder who discloses information under this statute shall limit the disclosure to appropriate school or school district personnel and law enforcement agencies.” C.R.S 12-43-218
 - (4) Colorado law (HB 00-1119) mandates that each board of education cooperate and, to the extent possible, develop written agreements with law enforcement officials, the juvenile justice system, and social services to identify the public safety concerns for information sharing. The Colorado Office of the Attorney General has developed guidance, in the form of a Model Interagency Agreement, for the effective implementation of HB 00-1119 and SB 00-133. Model Interagency Agreement can be found at:

https://coag.gov/sites/default/files/contentuploads/oce/School_Safety_SS/Safe2Tell_S2T/coloradojuvenile-information-exchange-laws-model-for-implementation.pdf

- (5) In 2009, the Colorado Children and Youth Information Sharing (CCYIS) Initiative was created as a result of many state and local agency representatives hearing concerns about the lack of guidelines regarding sharing of confidential information across systems. Over the course of several years, the CCYIS secured the commitment of multiple state agencies, including the Department of Human Services, State Court Administrator's Office, Department of Public Safety, Department of Public Health & Environment, and Department of Education, to make information sharing across systems a priority. The result was an Authorization/Consent to Release Information Form. This form may be used by schools, with parental consent, to gather additional information from other agencies. The form can be found at:
- https://cdpsdocs.state.co.us/oajja/ccyis/Colorado_Consent_2016_V1_1.pdf

2. DEVELOP A MULTIDISCIPLINARY THREAT ASSESSMENT TEAM THAT IS BASED IN THE SCHOOL OR DISTRICT AND PROVIDE ONGOING TRAINING

- a. Multidisciplinary and interagency teams may already exist and respond or intervene in a wide variety of situations.
- b. Roles and responsibilities should be clearly defined for threat assessment, including the leadership of the team.
 - (1) An information "vortex" should be identified as a central clearinghouse for student concerns and record-keeping.
- c. Teams should be trained together in the use of best practices and lessons learned.
 - (1) Tabletops or experiential exercises are recommended.
- d. The primary role of the team is to guide the assessment and management of the situation of concern and to provide ongoing support and monitoring to the student.
- e. Suggested membership of a trained multi-disciplinary team includes no less than three members with whom to counsel, with at least two being onsite, including:
 - (1) A senior, respected, and trained member of the administration who chairs the team, or designee who is trained and chairs the team
 - (2) School disciplinary or safety personnel assigned to school (or faculty member with training)
 - (3) A mental health professional, such as a school psychologist, social worker, or counselor, with training in threat assessment (may also facilitate the team)
 - (4) Local law enforcement contact
 - (5) Others who may be able to contribute to the process, such as:
 - a) guidance counselors
 - b) teachers, coaches who know the student well
 - c) nurses
 - d) transportation bus drivers
 - e) custodial and cafeteria staff
 - f) representative from IEP team, if applicable
 - g) community members with information, such as:
 1. probation officers
 2. social service workers

3. experts and consultants or
4. others providing service or knowledge of the student (e.g. therapists)

*Note: Suicide assessments must be conducted by a trained mental health professional.

3. ESTABLISH INTEGRATED AND INTERAGENCY SYSTEMS RELATIONSHIPS AND PARTNERSHIPS TO RESPOND TO PUBLIC SAFETY CONCERNS

- a. Community system relationships and relationships between individuals are required.
- b. Individuals who can serve as “boundary spanners” are critical to interagency relationships, developing written protocols, facilitating meetings, and resolution of any conflicts.
- c. Interagency Information Sharing Agreements are suggested by Colorado law to identify public safety concerns for each community (HB 00-1119).
- d. Identify Interagency Team support and clarify roles.
 - (1) Interagency Social Support Teams (ISST), or other integrated services teams (Collaborative Management Program, HB 04-1451), may help to develop Response, Management, & Support Plans or to provide needed community services.
https://coag.gov/sites/default/files/contentuploads/oce/School_Safety_SS/Safe2Tell_S2T/safetyassessmen_tcklst.pdf
 - (2) The Collaborative Management Program promotes the voluntary development of multi-agency services provided to children and families by county departments of human/social services and other mandatory agencies, including local judicial districts and probation, health departments, school district(s), each community mental health center, and each Mental Health Assessment and Service Agency.
<https://www.colorado.gov/pacific/cdhs/child-welfare-collaborations>

4. PROVIDE AWARENESS TRAINING FOR STAFF, STUDENTS, PARENTS AND COMMUNITY PARTNERS IN WARNING SIGNS OF VIOLENCE AND REPORTING PROCEDURES

- a. Behaviors of concern and threats to the safety and welfare of a student, the school, or community must be reported to school officials in a timely manner.
- b. Reporting procedure must be clear and use a common language.
- c. Multiple means of reporting should be encouraged (i.e. Tiplines, calling, texting, telling a trusted adult).
- d. Use of Safe2Tell Anonymous Reporting, through phone, online, and mobile app platforms is strongly encouraged.
- e. Breaking the “code of silence” must be reinforced: Telling keeps people safe. Training should be updated and repeated yearly.

II. The Cycle of Threat Assessment

III. Threat Assessment Inquiry Steps

An inquiry should be initiated immediately in any situation of concern. The threat assessment team should also consider: “How much time do we have?” If, at any time, information suggests the need for law enforcement assistance, that assistance should be requested immediately.

When a student’s behavior and communications, or reported behavior and communications, deviate from normal behavior for that student or that student’s peers, and indicates concern for that student’s safety or the safety of others, school officials should initiate a threat assessment inquiry for prevention of targeted school violence. The safety of the school, the student, and the community is a priority consideration. The student of concern should be immediately and safely contained, based on the severity of the concern, until safety procedures are initiated and the assessment process is activated.

Care should be exercised to ensure that a student of concern is treated appropriately, since any allegations regarding the behavior or perceived dangerousness of the student may be unfounded.

The Six Principles of Threat Assessment (Fein, et al., 2002)

1. Targeted violence is the end result of an understandable process of thinking and behavior.
2. Targeted violence stems from an interaction between the individual, the situation, the setting, and the target.
3. An investigative, skeptical, inquisitive mindset is needed.
4. Effective threat assessment is based on facts, rather than characteristics or “traits.”
5. An “integrated systems approach” is best.
6. Investigate whether or not a student poses a threat, not whether a student has made a threat.

Basic threat assessment inquiry steps include:

1. ASSEMBLE THE THREAT ASSESSMENT TEAM.
2. GATHER A VARIETY OF INFORMATION.
3. USE MULTIPLE DATA SOURCES.
4. ORGANIZE AND ANALYZE THE INFORMATION.
5. DETERMINATION OF CONCERN LEADING TO A RESPONSE, MANAGEMENT, AND SUPPORT PLAN.
6. DEVELOP A RESPONSE, MANAGEMENT, AND SUPPORT PLAN.
7. DOCUMENT THE THREAT ASSESSMENT AND KEEP RECORDS FOR THE INFORMATION “VORTEX”.
8. CONTINUE MONITORING OF THE STUDENT AND THE EFFECTIVENESS OF THE PLAN.

Explanation of Threat Assessment Inquiry Steps

1. ASSEMBLE THE THREAT ASSESSMENT TEAM

a. Suggested membership of a trained multi-disciplinary team includes no less than three members with whom to counsel, with at least two being onsite, including:

- (1) A senior, respected, and trained member of the administration who chairs the team, or designee who is trained and chairs the team
- (2) School disciplinary or safety personnel assigned to school (or faculty member with training)
- (3) A mental health professional, such as a school psychologist, social worker, or counselor with training in threat assessment (may also facilitate the team)
- (4) Local Law Enforcement contact
- (5) Others who may be able to contribute to the process, such as:
 - a) guidance counselors
 - b) teachers, coaches, or club sponsors who know the student well
 - c) nurses
 - d) transportation bus drivers
 - e) custodial and cafeteria staff
 - f) representative from IEP team, if applicable
 - g) community members with information, such as:
 1. probation officers
 2. social service workers
 3. experts and consultants
 4. others providing service or knowledge of the student (e.g. therapists)

*Note: Suicide assessments must be conducted by a trained mental health professional.

2. GATHER A VARIETY OF INFORMATION

a. The facts that drew attention to the student, the situation, and the targets

- (1) How did the student come to the attention of school officials?
- (2) What were the triggering events and possible targets?
- (3) What behaviors and/or communications were reported, and by whom?
- (4) What was the situation?
- (5) Who, if anyone, witnessed the reported behavior of concern?
- (6) What was the context for the reported behavior, i.e. what else was going on at the time of the reported behavior?

b. Information about the student

- (1) Identifying Information:
 - a) Name
 - b) Physical description (hair color, scars, clothes, etc.)
 - c) Date of birth
 - d) Identification numbers: student ID, etc.

(2) Background Information:

- a) Residences
- b) Family/home situation
- c) Academic performance
- d) Criminal behavior and law enforcement history
- e) Social networks and user names
- f) History of relationships and conflicts
- g) History of harassing others or of being harassed by others
- h) History of violence toward self and others
- i) History of having been a victim of violence or bullying or other trauma
- j) Known attitudes toward violence
- k) Triggering events
- l) Possible targets
- m) Mental Health/substance abuse history
- n) Access to and use of weapons
- o) History of grievances and grudges
- p) History of response to interventions
- q) History of inhibitors to aggression
- r) Any evidence of radicalization

(3) Current Life Information:

- a) Present stability of living and home situations
- b) Nature and quality of current relationships and personal support
- c) Recent losses or losses of status (shame, humiliation, recent breakup, or loss of significant relationship)
- d) Current grievances or grudges
- e) Perceptions of being treated unfairly
- f) Known difficulty coping with a stressful event
- g) Any progression in social, academic, behavioral, or psychological functioning
- h) Recent hopelessness, desperation, and/or despair, including suicidal thoughts, gestures, actions, or attempts
- i) Pending crises or change in circumstances
- j) Note whether the student has any trusting relationships with adults who are emotionally available to him or her
- k) If there is an adult who is connected to the student, that adult may have useful information about the student's thinking and behavior, and may also have the ability to disrupt the negative behavior patterns of the student

c. Information about boundary probing and “attack-related” behaviors

Examination of the thinking and behaviors of school attackers suggests that most attacks are preceded by discernible behaviors as the student plans or prepares for the attack. These behaviors are referred to as boundary probing or attack-related behaviors.

Behaviors that should raise concern about potential violence include:

- (1) Ideas or plans about injuring him/herself or attacking a school or persons at school
- (2) Communications (including via any technological means) or writings that suggest that the student has an unusual or worrisome interest in school attacks
- (3) Comments that express or imply the student is considering mounting an attack at school, or has made a threat, written or verbal, to his/her safety or the safety of others
- (4) Recent weapon-seeking behavior, especially if weapon-seeking is linked to ideas about attack or expressions about interest in attack
- (5) Communications or writings suggesting the student condones or is considering violence to redress a grievance or solve a problem

- (6) Rehearsals of attacks or ambushes

d. Motives

Communicated motives for attack behaviors to self or others have included:

- (1) Revenge for a perceived injury or grievance
- (2) Yearning for attention, recognition, or notoriety
- (3) A wish to solve a problem otherwise seen as unbearable
- (4) A desire to die or be killed

Knowledge of the communications or writings of a student of concern may help the threat assessment team in evaluating the risk of targeted violence. Understanding the circumstances that may have prompted a student to consider attacking others may permit authorities to direct the student away from violence.

e. Target Selection

Information about a student's targets may provide clues to the student's motives, planning, and attack-related behaviors.

3. USE MULTIPLE DATA SOURCES

a. Obtain School Information

A school threat assessment inquiry should begin with what is known about the student from school records, teacher interviews, classmates, and other information such as history from previous schools. Out of school information, including technology sources, parents'/families' information, law enforcement, and mental health records, if available, are also important. In utilizing information from school records in a threat assessment inquiry, the threat assessment team should follow school policies and relevant laws regarding information sharing.

Answers to the following questions may be drawn from information at school:

- (1) Is the student well known to any adult at the school?
- (2) Has the student come to attention for any behavior of concern? If so, what? (Email, texting, website, posters, papers, class assignments, rule breaking, violence, harassment, adjustment problems, depression or despair, etc.)
- (3) Has the student experienced serious difficulties or been in distress?
- (4) Is there anyone with whom the student shares worries, frustrations, and/or sorrows?
- (5) Is there information that the student has considered ending his or her life? (If so, suicide assessment is warranted.)
- (6) Has the student been a victim and/or initiator of hostile, harassing, or bullying behavior directed toward other students, teachers, or staff?
- (7) Is the student known to have an interest in weapons? If so, has he or she made efforts to acquire or use weapons? Does the student live in a home where there are weapons (whether or not the weapons are secured)?

b. Interview the Student of Concern

Interviews with a student of concern oftentimes are critical in a threat assessment inquiry. School administrators and law enforcement officials, and their respective legal counsels, should follow existing policies, or develop policies, regarding interviews with students of concern.

The primary purpose of a student interview is to learn about the student's thinking, motives, and behavior. The tone of the interview should be professional, neutral, and non-confrontational, rather than accusatory or judgmental. Student safety should be maintained as a priority while waiting for, or during, the interview.

Issues that should be considered include:

- (1) When and who is to notify parents/guardians of an interview
- (2) Whether or when to invite parents/guardians to be present during an interview
- (3) Whether and how to use information from an interview for criminal justice proceedings
- (4) Whether and when legal representation should be allowed, offered, or provided
- (5) The search of a student in any context is a sensitive and complex issue that should be examined thoroughly by school administrators and their legal counsel and should be addressed in school policies and in accordance with law

Conducting an interview with a student of concern, the threat assessment team should:

- (1) Be well acquainted with the facts that brought the student to the attention of school administrators and others
- (2) Have reviewed available information concerning the student's background, interests, and behaviors. Knowledge of background information concerning the student prior to the interview may help the threat assessment team judge whether the student is forthcoming and straightforward. Generally, a student should be asked directly about his or her intentions. An interview can also send the message to the student that his or her behavior has been noticed and has caused concern.

Additional resource for interview guidance: Cornell, D. & Sheras, P. (2006). Guidelines for responding to student threats of violence. Longmont, CO: Sopris West.

c. Interview Others Who Know the Student of Concern

Students and adults who know the student who is the subject of the threat assessment inquiry should be asked about communications or other behaviors that may indicate the student of concern's ideas or intent.

The focus of these interviews should be factual:

- (1) What was said? To whom?
- (2) What was written? To whom?
- (3) What was done?
- (4) When and where did this occur?
- (5) Who else observed this behavior?
- (6) Did the student say why he or she acted as they did?

d. Interview the Parent/Guardian

The parents or guardians of the student of concern should be interviewed in most cases. Parents may be protective of their children, frightened and/or embarrassed about the inquiry and the possibility that their child may be contemplating a violent act. The threat assessment team, therefore, should make it clear to the student's parents or guardians that the objective of the threat assessment inquiry is not only to help prevent targeted school violence and diminish the chance that the student, and possibly others, would be harmed, but also to help their child. The threat assessment team should seek the help of the student's parents in understanding the student's actions and interests, recognizing that parents may or may not know much about their child's thinking and behavior.

- (1) Questions for parents should focus on the student's behaviors and communications, especially those that might be attack-related.

- (2) Parents should be encouraged to explore all methods of their child’s communications including internet messaging, cell phone communications, and postings on social network sites such as Facebook, Snapchat, or any other social media sites.
- (3) The student’s interest in weapons should be explored, as well as his or her access to weapons at home.

e. Obtain Outside Sources of Information

Information may come to the attention of schools through outside sources such as community organizations, clubs, other schools, and anonymous reporting lines, such as Safe2Tell.

f. Interview the Potential Target

Individuals who have been identified as potential targets of the student of concern should also be interviewed. The primary purpose of that interview is to gather information about any possible situation of concern.

4. ORGANIZE AND ANALYZE THE INFORMATION – ALSO SEE THREAT ASSESSMENT INQUIRY: SECRET SERVICE ELEVEN KEY QUESTIONS (SECTION IV)

- a. Information gathered should be examined for evidence of behavior and conditions that suggest the student of concern is planning for an attack. Is the behavior of the student consistent with movement on a path toward attack?
- b. Do the student’s current situation and setting incline him or her toward or away from targeted violence?
- c. Consider if the student’s behavior is:
 - (1) normal behavior
 - (2) boundary probing behavior
 - (3) attack-related behavior
 - (4) attack behavior
- d. Other assessment tools may also be used to help organize the information (See Selected Threat Assessment Resource List)

*Note: Suicide Assessments must be conducted by trained mental health professionals

Threat Assessment Inquiry: Secret Service Eleven Key Questions (See Section IV)

- 1. What are the student’s motives and goals?
- 2. Have there been any communications suggesting ideas or intent to attack?
- 3. Has the subject shown inappropriate interest in school attacks or attackers, weapons, incidents of mass violence?
- 4. Has the student engaged in attack-related behaviors?
- 5. Does the student have the capacity to carry out the act?
- 6. Is the student experiencing hopelessness, desperation, or despair?
- 7. Does the student have a trusting relationship with at least one responsible adult?
- 8. Does the student see violence as an acceptable or desirable way to solve problems?
- 9. Is the student’s conversation and “story” consistent with their actions?
- 10. Are other people concerned about the student’s potential for violence?
- 11. What circumstances might affect the likelihood of violence?

5. DETERMINATION OF CONCERN LEADING TO A RESPONSE, MANAGEMENT, AND SUPPORT PLAN

- a. Person/situation appears to pose a clear and immediate threat of serious violence toward others that requires containment and action to protect identified target(s).

Descriptors:

- (1) A targeted attack is imminent (can occur at any moment).

Immediate Response Required to Include:

- (1) Immediate containment
- (2) Action to protect targets
- (3) Immediate intervention by Law Enforcement
- (4) Make necessary notifications to appropriate parties (e.g. potential victims, school staff members, district personnel)
- (5) Additional Response, Management, and Support Plan work should continue only after immediate threat has been resolved.

Re-entry meeting will be necessary before student can return to school.

- b. Person/situation appears to pose a threat of violence, exhibiting behaviors that indicate both a continuing intent to harm and efforts to acquire the capacity to carry out the plan.

Descriptors:

- (1) Threat is direct, specific, and plausible (likely, probable, or possible without appropriate intervention).
- (2) Threat suggests concrete steps have been taken toward carrying out an attack, awareness that the student who made the threat has acquired or practiced with a weapon, or has had the victim under surveillance.

Response Required to Include:

- (1) Development of a Response, Management, and Support Plan

- c. Person/situation does not appear to pose a threat of violence at this time, but exhibits behaviors that indicate a continuing intent to harm and potential for future violence.

Descriptors:

- (1) Wording in the threat suggests that the student who made the threat has given some thought to how the act will be carried out.
- (2) There may be a general indication of a possible place and time, although without specific details.
- (3) There is no strong indication that the student who made the threat has taken preparatory steps, although there may be some veiled reference or ambiguous or inconclusive evidence pointing to that possibility.
- (4) There may be a specific statement seeking to convey that the threat is not empty.

Response Required to Include:

- (1) Development of a Response, Management, and Support Plan.

- d. Person/situation does not appear to pose a threat of violence and the team believes the matter can be resolved with the development of a Response, Management, and Support Plan.

Descriptors:

- (1) Threat is vague and indirect.
- (2) Information contained within the threat is inconsistent, implausible, or lacks detail.
- (3) Threat lacks realism.
- (4) Content of the threat suggests the person is unlikely to carry it out.

Response Required to Include:

- (1) Development of a Response, Management, and Support Plan.

As the threat assessment inquiry moves to an investigation status, and law enforcement has been notified, the team might continue to ask themselves the following questions:

- (1) Does the information collected prompt more concern or less concern about the possibility that a student is moving on a path of attack?
- (2) What information might prompt less concern?
- (3) What information might heighten concern?
- (4) What options exist for intervening in the behavior of, or redirecting the student away from, ideas of or plans for a school attack?
- (5) How should potential targets be contacted, warned, and protected?
- (6) It is suggested that you consult with your school district's attorney about the "duty to warn and/or protect."

Note: Some district protocols may suggest additional possibilities. Consult with school district legal counsel as you move through the steps for your school or district.

The determination of the level of threat is not as important as developing the Response, Management and Support Plan (RMS). Teams should be monitoring all students for whom a threat assessment is warranted regardless of the level of threat. Do not allow your team to get so focused on determining the level of threat that careful planning does not go into your RMS Plan.

6. DEVELOP A RESPONSE, MANAGEMENT, AND SUPPORT PLAN

A Response, Management, and Support Plan can be developed for any situation, but should be developed if evaluation indicates medium level concern and/or upon re-entry of student of high concern. The purpose is to provide management of the situation, to protect and aid possible targets, and to provide support and guidance to help the student deal successfully with his or her issues. The plan also aids in monitoring of the student in the short-term and long-term. Strategies selected should have the best potential for long-term preventative power. The focus of the process is to connect the student to services and support systems that reduce the likelihood of future threatening behavior.

- a. Select actions and interventions related to the level of concern.
- b. Notify the potential target and their parents.
- c. Consider the history of previous actions, consequences, and interventions and evaluate their effectiveness.
- d. Start with as intense of a plan as needed, and then adjust based on progress. Timelines for review of progress can be short, if needed.
- e. Specify consequences, monitoring, and supervision strategies, support for skill development and relationship building. Consider possible trauma history of student and plan accordingly.
- f. Maximize the resources of the student, family, community agencies, other intervention providers, etc.
- g. Use community collaborative teams for intervention planning or further assessment, as indicated. (See Part I)
- h. If additional formal assessment is part of the plan, obtain parent permission as necessary.
- i. Build in formal follow-up meetings to review progress and response to the plan.
- j. Adjust plans as necessary.
- k. If student has missed any time away from school, be sure to conduct a re-entry meeting with the student, parents, and appropriate staff members.

7. DOCUMENT THE THREAT ASSESSMENT AND KEEP RECORDS

Regardless of the outcome of the threat assessment inquiry, the threat assessment team should document the behavior of concern, the inquiry process, and any actions taken. The school and/or district should have a central “vortex” for the information record-keeping, such as an administrator and/or team who would have previous records and information if future concerns are raised.

- a. This should be carried out in compliance with any applicable school or other relevant policies and/or legal considerations, and should include a record of sources and content for all key information considered in the threat assessment, as well as the date that the information was acquired.
- b. It also is important to document the reasoning that led the threat assessment team to its decision.
- c. A well-documented record provides baseline information and can be useful if the student comes to authorities’ attention again, or if, at some point in the future, investigators or school personnel need to determine whether the subject has changed patterns of thinking and behavior.
- d. This documentation can also be an asset in demonstration that a threat assessment process was conducted properly and in compliance with applicable laws, policies, and procedures.

8. CONTINUE MONITORING OF THE STUDENT AND THE EFFECTIVENESS OF RESPONSE, MANAGEMENT, AND SUPPORT PLAN

- a. Transition the short-term plan to a longer-term plan, as indicated.
- b. Reevaluate the plan and the system process, as needed.

IV. Threat Assessment Inquiry: A Summary of the Secret Service Eleven Key Questions

How should the information from a threat assessment inquiry be organized and analyzed? Information from research and interviews conducted during a threat assessment inquiry can be guided by the following eleven key questions:

1. WHAT ARE THE STUDENT’S MOTIVES AND GOALS?
2. HAVE THERE BEEN ANY COMMUNICATIONS SUGGESTING IDEAS OR INTENT TO ATTACK?
3. HAS THE SUBJECT SHOWN INAPPROPRIATE INTEREST IN SCHOOL ATTACKS OR ATTACKERS, WEAPONS, INCIDENTS OF MASS VIOLENCE?
4. HAS THE STUDENT ENGAGED IN ATTACK-RELATED BEHAVIORS?
5. DOES THE STUDENT HAVE THE CAPACITY TO CARRY OUT THE ACT?
6. IS THE STUDENT EXPERIENCING HOPELESSNESS, DESPERATION, OR DESPAIR?
7. DOES THE STUDENT HAVE A TRUSTING RELATIONSHIP WITH AT LEAST ONE RESPONSIBLE ADULT?
8. DOES THE STUDENT SEE VIOLENCE AS AN ACCEPTABLE OR DESIRABLE WAY TO SOLVE PROBLEMS?
9. IS THE STUDENT’S CONVERSATION AND “STORY” CONSISTENT WITH THEIR ACTIONS?
10. ARE OTHER PEOPLE CONCERNED ABOUT THE STUDENT’S POTENTIAL FOR VIOLENCE?
11. WHAT CIRCUMSTANCES MIGHT AFFECT THE LIKELIHOOD OF VIOLENCE?

Use the information gathered to help determine the seriousness of the concern and to develop the Response, Management, and Support Plan.

Explanation of the Secret Service Eleven Key Questions

1. WHAT ARE THE STUDENT'S MOTIVES AND GOALS?

- a. What motivated the student to make the statements or take the actions that caused him or her to come to attention?
- b. Does the situation or circumstance that led to these statements or actions still exist?
- c. Does the student have a major grievance or grudge? Against whom?
- d. What efforts have been made to resolve the problem and what has been the result? Does the student of concern feel that any part of the problem is resolved or see any alternative?

2. HAVE THERE BEEN ANY COMMUNICATIONS SUGGESTING IDEAS OR INTENT TO ATTACK?

- a. What, if anything, has the student communicated to someone else (targets, friends, other students, teachers, family, others) or written in a diary, journal, or website concerning his or her ideas and/or intentions?

3. HAS THE SUBJECT SHOWN INAPPROPRIATE INTEREST IN ANY OF THE FOLLOWING?

- a. School attacks or attackers
- b. Weapons (including recent acquisition of any relevant weapon)
- c. Incidents of mass violence (terrorism, workplace violence, mass murderers)

4. HAS THE STUDENT ENGAGED IN ATTACK-RELATED BEHAVIORS? THESE BEHAVIORS MIGHT INCLUDE:

- a. Developing an attack idea or plan
- b. Making efforts to acquire or practice with weapons
- c. Casing or checking out possible sites and areas for attack
- d. Rehearsing attacks or ambushes

5. DOES THE STUDENT HAVE THE CAPACITY TO CARRY OUT AN ACT OF TARGETED VIOLENCE?

- a. How organized is the student's thinking and behavior?
- b. Does the student have the means (e.g., access to a weapon) to carry out an attack?

6. IS THE STUDENT EXPERIENCING HOPELESSNESS, DESPERATION, AND/OR DESPAIR?

- a. Is there information to suggest that the student is experiencing desperation and/or despair?
- b. Has the student experienced a recent failure, loss, and/or loss of status?
- c. Is the student known to be having difficulty coping with a stressful event?
- d. Is the student now, or has the student ever been, suicidal?
- e. Has the student engaged in behavior that suggests that he or she has considered ending his or her life?

7. DOES THE STUDENT HAVE A TRUSTING RELATIONSHIP WITH AT LEAST ONE RESPONSIBLE ADULT?

- a. Does this student have at least one relationship with an adult where the student feels that he or she can confide in the adult, and believes that the adult will listen without judging or jumping to conclusions?
- b. Is the student emotionally connected to, or disconnected from, other students?
- c. Has the student previously come to someone's attention, or raised concern in a way, that suggested he or she needs intervention or supportive services?

8. DOES THE STUDENT SEE VIOLENCE AS ACCEPTABLE – OR DESIRABLE – OR THE ONLY WAY TO SOLVE PROBLEMS?

- a. Does the setting around the student (friends, fellow students, parents, teachers, adults) explicitly or implicitly support or endorse violence as a way of resolving problems or disputes?
- b. Has the student been "dared" by others to engage in an act of violence?

9. IS THE STUDENT’S CONVERSATION AND “STORY” CONSISTENT WITH HIS OR HER ACTIONS?

- a. Does information from collateral interviews and from the student’s own behavior confirm or dispute what the student says is going on?

10. ARE OTHER PEOPLE CONCERNED ABOUT THE STUDENT’S POTENTIAL FOR VIOLENCE?

- a. Are those who know the student concerned that he or she might take action based on violent ideas or plans?
- b. Are those who know the student concerned about a specific target?
- c. Have those who know the student witnessed recent changes or escalations in mood and behavior?

11. WHAT CIRCUMSTANCES MIGHT AFFECT THE LIKELIHOOD OF AN ATTACK?

- a. What factors in the student’s life and/or environment might increase or decrease the likelihood that the student will attempt to mount an attack at school?
- b. What is the response of other persons who know about the student’s ideas or plan to mount an attack? (Do those who know about the student’s ideas actively discourage the student from acting violently, encourage the student to attack, deny the possibility of violence, passively collude with attack, etc.?)

- REMS TA Center – School Threat Assessment: An Introductory Training by Request This training introduces participants to various components of school behavioral threat assessments, which were originally put forth by the Safe School Initiative (SSI), alongside new information and guidance from the Federal Bureau of Investigation as presented in the Guide for Developing High-Quality School Emergency Operations Plans (School Guide, available at <http://rems.ed.gov/K12GuideForDevelHQSchool.aspx>, and published in 2013. Participants learn about effective characteristics of threat assessments for consideration when forming their own approach and team. Specialized topics are also addressed, such as the use of social media in threat assessments. Participants have the opportunity to discuss concepts in small-group discussions and practice a basic threat assessment in a tabletop exercise.

- Campus Attacks: Targeted Violence Affecting Institutions of Higher Education, developed by the U.S. Secret Service (USS), the U.S. Department of Education (ED), and the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), and published in 2010, explores the issue of violence at institutions of higher education (IHEs) in response to the tragic shooting at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University ("Virginia Tech") on April 16, 2007. ED/USS/FBI initiated a collaborative effort to understand the nature of this violence and identify ways of preventing future attacks that would affect our nation's colleges and universities. In total, 272 incidents were identified through a comprehensive search of more than 115,000 results in open-source reporting from 1900 to 2008. The findings are pertinent and far-reaching, and the incidents studied include all forms of targeted violence, ranging from domestic violence to serial killers. The report is available electronically on the REMS TA Center Web site at http://rems.ed.gov/docs/CampusAttacks_201004.pdf.
- In November 2009, Virginia Tech published an additional resource document on threat assessment. This document, Implementing Behavioral Threat Assessment on Campus, was produced by Virginia Tech with the support of a grant from the U.S. Department of Education. In this publication, Virginia Tech documented their experience in developing and implementing a behavioral threat assessment process in the time following the campus shootings on April 16, 2007. Starting a campus behavioral threat assessment process included creating a multi-disciplinary threat assessment team; strengthening and developing necessary policies and procedures to enhance and support the team's efforts; training the team; identifying and harnessing key resources on and off campus to intervene where necessary; securing case management personnel to implement and monitor intervention efforts; and raising awareness on campus regarding the team's existence, its purpose, and the role that everyone on campus shares in reporting troubling behavior to the team. The report and numerous resources collected during the course of developing this book can serve as a starting point for institutions to consider in crafting their own policies, mission statement, public awareness message, and other relevant materials. Accessible at http://rems.ed.gov/docs/VT_ThreatAssessment09.pdf.
- Prior Knowledge of Potential School-Based Violence: Information Students Learn May Prevent A Targeted Attack. This study, published in 2008, aimed to further prevent attacks by exploring how students with prior knowledge of attacks made decisions regarding what steps, if any, to take after learning of the information. The study sought to identify what might be done to encourage more students to share information they learn about potential targeted school-based violence with one or more adults. The report is accessible at http://rems.ed.gov/docs/DOE_BystanderStudy.pdf.
