

March 2018

E-UPDATE FROM CSSRC ~ You are receiving this email as a subscriber of the Colorado School Safety Resource Center's (CSSRC) listserv. E-Updates from the CSSRC will contain the most current information about the Center's activities and resources, as well as other school safety efforts throughout the state of Colorado and relevant national resources. Please forward this to others on your email list that have an interest in supporting safe and positive schools in Colorado. They may register for this listserv on our website www.Colorado.gov/SchoolSafetyResourceCenter or www.Colorado.gov/CSSRC.

THE DIRECTOR'S CORNER

I know we all have heavy hearts these past few weeks with the tragic news coming out of Florida. Our thoughts and prayers are with all the victims, their families and friends. Students and staff across the country are scared yet schools still remain the safest places that students frequent each day. As adults we must reassure students and continue our safety measures. Like all of you, I read and watch the news accounts and many are looking for a quick answer. Those of us that focus on school safety everyday know there isn't a quick answer. We must all be vigilant and report students of concern including working with our community responders, keeping doors of buildings secured, following our safety protocols and creating the most positive school climates possible. Many of our Colorado schools are not losing students from shootings but from suicide. Mental health resources have improved in many schools but they still have not reached national recommendations in most districts. School staff in Colorado work hard to keep students safe and fortunately we have many partners assisting. Please let us know if the School Safety Resource Center can help your school.

Kindest Regards,
Chris Harms

- Last week the U.S. Department of Education sent out this message: "To help youth cope with school shooting incidents, youth.gov has compiled a list of federal resources those who work with youth can use to address trauma and bolster resilience. Please review these resources below and contact the agencies directly for assistance."
- These additional resources come from the National Association of School Psychologists.
- Finally, staff from Littleton Public Schools shared a letter they sent to their parents last weekend. Please feel free to add your own contact information and send to your parents.
